

Favorite...

Unexpected Vacation Destination

"Greenville, South Carolina. I went there for a food and music festival called Euphoria, and I left feeling like I'd experienced the best of the South. I sat under the stars beside the Reedy River, drinking blueberry-infused beer, eating three kinds of shrimp and grits, and listening to twangy singer-songwriters play Patsy Cline covers. Before I went I'd never heard of the place, but I can't wait to go back."

—KATIE ARNOLD-RATLIFF, O ASSOCIATE EDITOR

