Exploring the Arts

GREENVILLE, SOUTH CAROLINA

visitgreenvillesc.com

THIS TOWN IS FILLED with new offerings to enhance the already great ones. Plan your trip around Artisphere (May 12 through 14) for live music, along with more than 250 international visual artists. Rent bikes from Pedal Chic, the first women-specific cycling store in the U.S., and head to the Swamp Rabbit Trail, which is hospitable to novices. Catch special chef and writer events at M. Judson Booksellers & Storytellers. Newest on the food front are Jianna, The Anchorage, Up on the Roof, and Vault & Vator. And include a stop at the Greenville Center for Creative Arts. After all that shopping, rest your heads where celebs stay at The Westin Poinsett ($$$ westinpoinsettgreenville.com) or the Aloft Greenville Downtown ($$ starwoodhotels.com). Wake up the crew each morning with brews from Methodical Coffee.

Clockwise from top: Have dessert first if you want to, and then you and all your girlfriends can sit down for unforgettable meals and shop at Pedal Chic and other cool local boutiques.
